

Native Flute Player's Workshop

*Improve your technique, develop your songwriting and improvisational skills, fine-tune your performance.
A workshop for intermediate through advanced players of the Native American Flute.*

Tuesdays 7:30-9:30pm July 27 - August 24, 2010

Location: Plano / Allen, TX (near Bethany & 75-Central)

Instructor: Cornell Kinderknecht

Cornell is a World Flutes performing and recording artist as well as a teacher. He currently has two solo albums to his credit and can be heard on numerous other artists' recordings. He has a private studio of flute students in Dallas and is a frequent performer and presenter at music workshops around the US. With his expertise, he provides practical hands-on instruction while his light-hearted approach puts students at ease. Cornell has been a Texas Music Awards nominee twice and he currently serves on the Board of Directors of Earth Rhythms.

www.cornellk.com

In this four-session interactive class we will work both individually and as a group, exploring possibilities to improve our skills and to develop our playing and creativity.

Open to students who have attended earlier levels of this series OR to others who have intermediate to advanced experience with the Native American flute. Familiarity with tablature for Native American flute (NAF tab) is recommended.

Course fee: $95

Native American flutes, CDs, and other educational materials will be available for purchase.

Advance registration for this class is requested.
Please register online by July 23 at:

www.cornellk.com